Surplus Trade List for 1927

Due to the immense acres of Dahlias grown, we are able to quote the following prices on healthy guaranteed, true to name, fieldgrown divisions:

	10	100
A. D. Livoni—Show Pink	12 1.00 4.00	100 $ 8.00 30.00
dark green foliage, making it a desirable cut flower, which remains double to the end of the season. While starting to bloom early in the season, it is also a late bloomer, which makes it very valuable for commercial purposes	10.00	75.00 red with every petal on every flower, tipped white. Do you know this Dahlia, "Bob Pluese," scored the highest average of all at Storrs, Connecticut Trial Dahlia Gardens in 1925? Exhibition SCORED 87 POINTS, and Commercial SCORED 93 POINTS. It has been shown by us 26 times, from single blooms to fifty blooms, in two years. It won first prize every time with the exception of one time, when it took second prize, which was due to one bruised flower in a vase of twenty-five. We have never seen a better Dahlia. It has all the good points which it must have to win over fifty-seven growers from 14 states with 127 entries. It is recommended by expert judges of Dahlias as a good commercial, exhibition and garden variety, always true to form	12.00	75.00
Butterfly—Dec. Pinkish salmon on the outer edges, shading lighter toward the center that finally reaches a delicate cream. Exact color of a Butterfly Rose. A very large flower, eight inches across, and six inches deep. By its size, color and form, it is the outstanding cut Dahlia in the market; the supply never meets the demand, although it is double in price of any other cut Dahlia in the market. It is the most popular Dahlia in any Show in which it is exhibited, being referred to many times by spectators as looking "good enough to eat." Because of its unusual and delicate beauty, and also its keeping qualities, it has often been said that no name could do this variety justice. The plant grows to medium height; it has never failed to win as the best-keeping Dahlia in any Exhibit in which it has been displayed	50.00	400.00

DAHLIA SEED

Our seeds are hand hybridized. Having 60,000 plants of the best varieties, and with twenty years' experience, we believe that the seed produced by us has no superior, if any equal.

This has been proved by the large amount of first-class Dahlias that we have put on the market, for instance, note the three listed below, and records of same.

Having received testimonials from hundreds of satisfied customers, stating the great percentage of doubles, and the wonderful new creations they have obtained, we believe that all who grow Dahlias from seed should at least give us a trial.

For comparison, we have bought seed from many other growers, and have never been able to obtain like results.

At a recent garden test, with first year seedlings, in beds of 250 plants and with a cash prize of $250.00, we easily took first, with six well known growers as competitors.

Gladiolus

Virginia—We have a limited amount of bulbs of various sizes of this famous forcing, as well as outside variety. This is the leading glad in the Los Angeles market, always being in great demand. A strong grower, good bloomer and multiplies rapidly. Long spikes of raspberry red, shading to begonia rose in throat. A beautiful color.
